A film produced by HSM to showcase how fast and strong is the connectivity of JIO across India, and how JIO is empowering millions across the country to explore new opportunities. The film was shot in Akodara, where a city boy visits for the first time and finds himself in a tough spot due to bad mobile connectivity. It's only a matter of seconds when he realises that people around him are enjoying 4G connectivity, paying chai wala through UPI , video streaming to their peers, all of this through JIO
